16th July 2020

Dear Parents/Carers

Last day of school arrangements for Year 6 bubbles

This is a reminder about the arrangements for the last day in school for each bubble next week. Please note that this is different to the days of attendance since the 1st June 2020.

If your child was allocated a place in a Monday/Tuesday bubble from the 1st June then they can attend school next week on MONDAY 20th JULY ONLY.

If your child was allocated a place in a Thursday/Friday bubble from the 1st June then they can attend school next week on TUESDAY 21st JULY ONLY.

This is to ensure that each bubble has the opportunity of a final day in school with us next week.

Children who attend their bubble next week can wear mufti (no donations required).

We appreciate that this is your child's last ever day in primary school and so their teachers are planning fun activities for them – they will also have crisps and chocolate biscuits for an afternoon celebration – and we will also be giving out their Year 6 leavers' t-shirts and other items on this day.

Even if your child has not attended their Year 6 bubble over the last few weeks, we would welcome them in for their day that they can attend next week so that they can say goodbye to at least half of their class and staff who would very much like to wish them well. If their bubble is not led by their usual Year 6 class teacher, we are hoping to arrange a short socially distanced opportunity (if the weather is good, it will be outdoors) for them to say goodbye to them too.

We would ask you to send your child in with a carrier bag on their day in school next week, as they will also be given their books and other belongings to take home.

All other arrangements, e.g. packed lunch and drop off and collection times/arrangements, remain the same for each bubble (8.45am arrival via infant gate, 2.45pm collection via infant gate).

Kind regards

Hackbridge Primary School
